Passport To

The Opening

"Life is a series of challenges. Each requiring us to adapt and better ourselves in order to proceed."
- Greg Whitesides

In the beginning, you start out with a dream of how you would like the rest of your life to be.

A dream filled with hopes and aspirations that change as your life changes.

With these changes, come experiences and opportunities that makes a mark upon you.

These marks, just like marks upon a passport, reflect where you have been and all that has changed you into the person you are now.

This dream, as you work towards making it happen, becomes your passport to tomorrow.

You soon discover with your passport in hand, that there is no such thing as impossible, and that as long as you have attempted the journey, you have succeeded.

"Be the change you wish to see in the world."
Mahatma
Ohandas Ghandi
- Karen D.
Schweikert

"Looking before you leap best avoids jumping to conclusions." - Dan Whitesides

"... if one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams, and endeavors to live the life which he has imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours." Henry David Thoreau - Jeri Poppish

"It's like ham & eggs. The chicken makes a contribution but the pig makes a commitment."
Fred Shero - Jeff Henderson

"The world is a wide open place with many stones left unturned, many wonders yet to be discovered. Take a good look as you prepare to take your next step into tomorrow and choose what will be your great feat." - Marcella Simon "Knowledge is power. Information is liberating. Education is the premise of progress in every society." Kofi Annan - Kathy Kraus

"My goal is simple. It is complete understanding of the universe, why it is as it is and why it exists at all." Stephen Hawking - A. J. Zadrozny

"The creator of the universe works in mysterious ways. But he uses a base ten counting system and likes round numbers." Scott Adams - Brian "Tater" Bartlett

"Don't let what you cannot do interfere with what you can." John Wooden - Kirhanyla Hoy

We have all come together here at York College and share a common goal: to better ourselves, to learn more about the world around us, and to achieve what will make us successful.

"We must be more than an audience, more even than actors. We must be authors of the history of our age." Madeliene
Albright - Kate Kosturski

Along the way, you work hard. You live, you learn, you love and you grow.

In a short time you realize a professor is really just a fellow colleague, and that there is more to a college than what is found in a textbook, and that getting that paper called a degree isn't nearly as important as what you learned along the way.

"The Key to Success in life is how well you adapt to Plan B"
Pritchard - Lori Guida

You develop a thirst for more, you meet people who share the same desires, and you take the journey together.

"Today is the tomorrow you worried about yesterday"
Anonymous
- Michelle Daniels

Friendships are developed with people you meet which will create an impact upon the rest of your life, even after the degree is in hand and the ceremonies are done

You find out more about yourself and your surroundings and you realize that the more you know, the more there is to know.

For all of you, coming to college helps to fulfill a part of that dream.

Like most travelers, passport in hand, you will find yourself always looking towards tomorrow.

"When you go face to face with yourself, there can be no cop-out."
Duke Ellington
- Danny Metz

"It's nice to be important, but it's more important to be nice" Popular Proverb
- Mike Patterson

"Wisdom is not a product of schooling, but of the lifelong attempt to acquire it." Albert Einstein
- Kaite Greiner

"There is hope with every turn. A bridge to build, a bridge to burn. Here's hoping you never go astray on Life's Highway."
Steve Wariner -
Denise Scott

"Other people may be there to help us, teach us, guide us along our path. But the lesson to be learned is always ours."
Melody Beattie - Judith Berryman

But, as you look towards tomorrow, it is also good to reflect upon the past, and what got you to the place you are now.

This book, like stamps upon a passport, will help you to reflect upon that past.

For this is the book that serves as a chronicle of the journey you take as you walk through the world, with your passport to tomorrow.

Passport To

The Graduates

Passport to.....

On Tuesday December 22, 1998, 297 students graduated from York College. The ceremony took place in Wolf Gymnasium. In this graduating class, there were 31 students receiving Masters degrees, 43 receiving Bachelor of Arts degrees, 206 receiving Bachelor of Science degrees, and 17 receiving Associate degrees.

the Future!

For the ceremony, the students selected Professor Philip Avillo Jr. to be the faculty speaker. Dr. Avillo is a Professor and Chair of the History and Political Science Department at York College of Pennsylvania. During the graduation ceremony, there was an Honorary Degree given by Dr. Waldner to Ms. Karen L. Bureau. Ms. Bureau graduated from York College in 1973, and she is now one of the world's top operatic sopranos. Her interest in singing was seen through her participation in the York College Concert Choir.

A Garden of

There is nothing quite as nice as reflecting back upon past memories and good times while strolling through a garden full in bloom. Foliage such as Hyacinths, Daffodils, Tulips and other various plants and tree life intertwine the paths containing ten plaques in the new faculty recognition garden located on the campus mall connecting the fountain to the Student Union Building in a glorious rainbow of color. Each of these plaques honor outstanding faculty members who have contributed a great deal to not only the lives of each student that came before them but also to the legacy of York College as a whole.

Remembrance

Honorees as well as the various departments on college that they represent are :

Prof. Carmen Owen
Department of Behavioral Sciences

Dr. Robert Denoncourt
Department of Biological Sciences

Dr. P. Frank Lisk
Department of Business Administration

Prof. Jack Jaquet
Department of Education

Dr. Van Baker
Dr. Dean Barnard
Dr. Benjamin McKulik
Department of English and Humanities

Dr. Charles Boas
Dr. James Morrison
Department of History and Political Science

Dr. Mary Ann Snodgrass Department of Nursing

Country Club Apartments

Country Club Apartments are a living situation for upper-class students of York College located one-half mile from campus. They are essentially row houses offering comfortable living for 270 students. Most of the fully furnished apartments are three- and four-person capacity. The houses also offer a fully-equipped kitchen, dining room, bathroom and comfortable furniture. Country Club Apartments allow students to gain independence and privacy while still enjoying the beauty of the lying grounds and proximity to campus.

Old & New Tyler

Two of the original Tyler Run buildings are two story buildings each containing 4 apartments. Each apartment houses 6 students in 3 rooms with a living area, kitchen and bath. The newer Tyler Run building offers three floors of apartments. These apartments house 6 students in 2 rooms with a larger common area, kitchen, and 2 bathrooms. The Tyler Run Apartments are popular with junior and senior students.

Manor South

Manor South offers housing for over one hundred and twenty students. The traditional dormitory divides males and females by floor. The rooms are situated to have two students per room. Amenities for Manor South included a communal recreation and lounge area. The layout makes it an exciting and quieter atmosphere for all residence.

Manor East and West

Manor East and West are annexes of the Manor North dorm. Both complexes consist of three floors, each floor having its own large, furnished common area, bathroom and balcony.

Manor North

Manor North provides housing for one hundred and seventy students, and is the largest of the traditional dorm complexes at York College. The complex has four floors, the first and fourth are female and second and third floors designated as male. Manor North has a study area, gathering and recreation area, and laundry facilities.

Manor North-East

Manor North East is the newest dorm on campus. It currently houses 99 students. The dorm contains meeting rooms, as well as facilities for the comfort and convenience of all students. The dorm itself frames a courtyard, which houses a basketball court.

Penn Hall

Penn Hall is a traditional dorm housing approximately 130 men and women. A three floor complex, it residents are mostly freshmen and transfer students. The dorm offers some amenities including: a lounge, recreational area, Director's Office, laundry and a kitchen that all residents may use.

Springdale Housing

Springdale Hall, located in the southeast side of campus is a non-traditional housing complex which gives students a more private living quarters. Only twenty people living in the complex, making it a quieter alternative to the dorms. It offers the same amenities as some of the dorms including a kitchen, a communal area to watch TV or to hang out, as well as single suites for those who prefer such living arrangements.

Beard Hall

Adjacent to Penn Hall, Beard Hall is another traditional dorm. Housing 130 students in double occupancy rooms, Beard Hall features a spacious lounge, recreation area, a director's office, laundry facility and a more intimate atmosphere compared to some of the other larger dorms.

Mini-Dorms

Evergreen/Laurel/ Willow Halls are known on campus as the mini-dorms. These buildings house 40 students each in four separate suites of ten students. Each of the suites offers two double and two triple rooms, a central living area, bathroom, and a balcony or patio.

The York College field hockey team had its most successful campaign in school history in 1998. Unfortunately for the Spartans, the season did not include a conference championship or a trip to the NCAA tournament, but those accomplishments are not far off if the Spartans continue the improvement they have displayed over the last three years.

The green and white ended the season with a school record 15 wins, a school record 69 goals and a new determination to continue the growth of the program.

The Spartan defense entered the season as the distinct strength of the team. When the season ended, head coach Vicki Sutton's high-octane offense had over-shadowed their teammates on the other half of the field.

The offense was paced by the tandem of Jackie Russell and Katie Regar. Russell will enter the 1999 season just five points short of 100 career points and earned first team All-CAC honors for the 1998 season.

Regar was second on the squad in scoring with 11 goals and nine assists for 31 points. Regar earned second team All-CAC for her efforts.

Other offensive stars for the Spartans include Sue Walker, Marianne Mason, Sandra Lancaster, Andrea Hamilton, and Becky Seidel.

On the other side of the field, senior Jamie Torkar-Swartz and junior Kari Moyer controlled the defense. Torkar-Swartz was named to the NFHCAA First Team All-South region but for some unknown reason, only made second team All-CAC. Torkar-Swartz ended the season with two goals and five assists for nine points, but statistics cannot put a value on what she meant to the Spartans.

Moyer controlled play in front of the Spartan goal as the York defense allowed only 1.36 goals per game. She was named to the First Team All-CAC for her efforts. Megan Dammers moved back from the offense and matched up against other top forwards. Dammers ended the season with four defensive saves, three behind team leader Moyer. Senior Katie McEntee also played well for the senior defense as she notched three defensive saves and eight assists.

Senior Judy Frankel had a solid senior year as she recorded five shutouts and a save percentage of .737. For her career, Frankel notched 16 shutouts and a save percentage of .817.

"I am very excited about the direction that we are going," says coach Sutton. "If we can have a solid recruiting class, we have the ability to continue our progression to the top of the conference and make ourselves an NCAA caliber team each year."

Jackie Russell racked up 16 goals and 19 assists, totaling 51 points.

STRONG

3rd Place Finish at CAC Meet

The York College men's cross country team finished one point out of second place at the 1998 Capital Athletic Conference Cross Country Championships at John Rudy State Park in York, PA. The Spartans did not place anyone in the top seven which signifies first team All-CAC. However the green and white placed three top runners in the next eight for second team All-CAC honors.

Junior Stefan Kochansky led the Spartan contingency as he just missed making the first team by one spot, finishing eighth with a time of 27:57, 12 seconds short of seventh.

Two spots behind Kochansky was senior Brian Green who ran his personal best with a time of 28:02 to finish tenth, earning his first All-Conference honor.

The Spartans' last All-CAC team member was senior George Livingston who placed 12th with a time of 28:09.

Head coach Rich Achtzehn was pleased with the performance of his All-CAC runners.

"It was great to see two seniors run great in their last conference championship," said Achtzehn. "I was also happy to see Stefan perform as well as he has in recent memory."

The Spartans ended the meet with 72 points, one behind second place Salisbury State and 48 behind race champion Mary Washington.

RUNNER'S WORLD

The York College women's cross country team finished fourth in the 1998 Capital Athletic Conference Cross Country Championships at John Rudy State Park in York, PA.

The Spartans placed two runners on the All-CAC teams as sophomore Beth Ann Hooper finished second at the championship. Hooper finished ten seconds behind CAC Runner of the Year Kerri Bowers with a time of 19:22. By virtue of her second place finish, Hooper earned a spot on the All-CAC first team.

Senior Maria Canelos was the other Spartan to earn All-CAC honors as she placed 15th to pick up the last spot on the second team. Canelos covered the course in a time of 20:35 to earn all-conference honors in her first and last year on the Spartan squad.

The Spartans had two other runners place in the top 25 as Chris Mullinix and Christie Bateman placed 23rd and 24th with times of 21:22 and 21:24.

Head coach Rich Achtzehn was surprised with the Spartan finish.

"I am a little surprised that we finished fourth but this conference keeps getting tougher every year," said Achtzehn. "Beth Ann and Maria ran well and so did the rest of the team. Despite our fourth place finish, it was a successful day."

CHARGE

Their Way Toward Most Impressive Record

Sometimes a coach will get a good feeling about the approaching season and just know that her players will gel together to deliver a strong showing. York College women's soccer Head Coach Vicki Sterner forecasted that the 1998 season would be a positive one. Tallying an impressive seven shutouts in a one month stretch, the Spartans charged their way to their most impressive in its three-year history, 10-6-1.

Sterner was pleased with the season on a whole.

"The offense took time to perform to its best ability in the first half of the season and the defensive unit was forced to carry us," said Sterner. "I was very proud when the offense and defense gelled together in the second half of the season. As a whole, it was a great season and we performed well against other tough teams in the CAC."

The defensive unit, consisting of Kelly Sharp, Erin Burke, Natalie DeCresente, Rebecca Clarkin, and Caitlin McCracken made up the successful team who was recognized as Spartan Athletes of the Week on October 5-11.

The offensive unit performed extremely well as the season progressed behind the strength of Sara Shine, Lindsay Hecht, Cindy Spiron, Laura Kiefer, and Karen Wagner.

Coach Sterner commented, "I am cautiously optimistic about the 1999 season. I was almost too optimistic this year. Two weeks into this season, I started to get concerned, but the team gelled together to end with a very solid record. It may be too early to get a feel how the incoming players will impact the team, but the core group I have now will definitely give it more strength."

The Spartans established new school records for shutouts in a season, wins in a season, goals in a season and least goals allowed in a season.

The Spartans will only graduate two seniors from the 26 member squad.

CHAMPS

Men's Soccer Team Clinches 1st Place Conference Title

Not only did the York College men's soccer team clinch the title of the Capital Athletic Conference, they won the most games in one season in York College history and were the regular season and tournament champions of the CAC.

The team entered the season wanting to dominate the center of the field. That was accomplished by inserting players in different positions, forcing them to make transitions to best serve the team.

The Spartans showed no weakness with balanced offensive and defensive teams because the defense could score and the offense could defend extremely well.

According to head coach Pat Massa, "These kids deserve all the acclaim they received this season. They worked so hard to achieve their goal which was a conference championship."

Five Spartans earned All-CAC honors as Chris Showers, Michael Biazzo, Joe Gossard, and Eric York earned first team honors while Matt Shealer picked up second team All-CAC honors.

Massa expects the team to make a strong showing next season, even though there are eight seniors graduating.

"We are graduating quite a few seniors, but we are keeping plenty of excellent players. I don't foresee a drop in the level of play."

Massa could not have asked for a more rewarding end to his coaching career. He received the perfect retirement gift from his players and they attributed part of their winning season to Massa's leadership on and off the field.

Showers said, "Coach takes care of his players. He cares about us in the academic sense...He lets us have fun, but he sets goals and makes sure we pursue them. Or he'll let us set goals for ourselves, then push us to see that we get them done."

Massa will dedicate more time to the budding Sport Management program at York College and continue to teach physical education courses.

The Spartans ended their overall season with a 16-4-1 record.

Matt Bievenour controls the ball, scores goals, five assists, totals 15 points for the Spartans.

The York College volleyball team ended their 1998 season just two wins short of repeating the 1997 Capital Athletic Conference championship. Sure, failing to repeat was disappointing but the steps the young Spartans made bode well for the upcoming season.

Head coach Sue DuMars was forced to lean on her trio of captains even heavier than she anticipated. Seniors Jeri Mondin and Alexa Harrington teamed with Junior Jill-Crouse-Wolf to form a very potent trimvirate that carried the green and white to a regular season co-championship with Salisbury State.

Crouse-Wolf, the 1998 Spartan MVP, was the undisputed leader of the green and white. The junior outside hitter ended the season with a team-leading 559 kills, 738 digs, and 66 blocks. For the second straight year, she was selected to the first-team All-CAC squad as she led the league in digs and finished second in kills per game. Crouse-Wolf ended the season second in the nation in assists per game, averaging 5.63 digs per game.

Harrington ended the campaign leading the Spartans in hitting percentage (.259) and service aces (58 aces). She was second on the team in kills and blocks, third in assists, and fourth in digs for the green and white.

Mondin graduates as the school's all-time leading setter as she broke Leah Peters' school record for assists midway through the year. The new record is now 4,245 assists. Mondin also holds the record for games played with 508, breaking Becky Toms' old record. Mondin also finished the season ranked 11th in the nation in assists and led the CAC in this category.

The Spartans have a core of five freshmen that provides York and DuMars with a very rosy outlook for the future. The freshmen core consists of Heather Applegate, Kelly Morgan, Angie Wagman, Laurie Meadows, and Brooke Nosworthy. Applegate, Nosworthy, and Meadows were the only Spartans to play in all 143 games this year.

The Spartans will graduate Harrington and Mondin but the return of Crouse-Wolf and seven underclassmen will put York in the enviable position of returning a majority of their squad.

Right on Par!

Defending the greens, golf course greens that is, the Spartan golf team exhibited excellence as usual this year. Long hours out on the golf course have certainly paid off, as this remains the top program in the athletic department for over 30 seasons. The program has an overall record of 820-317-3, in fact the Spartans were 97-27-2 in 1998. In fact, Spartan golfer Shawn Kint was sent to the NCAA National Tournament in Jekyll Island, GA. Kint, a junior, won four tournaments last year, and continues to excel. Coached by Jeff Gamber, the Spartan Fall and Spring Golf team consisted of Dan Breen, Bill Brennan, Mark Fitzgerald, Shawn Kint, and Damien Lynch.

RISING TO THE NEXT LEVEL

The York College cheerleading squad involved 14 athletes during the 1998-99 season. These individuals practiced 12 hours per week in preparation for all men's home soccer and basketball games. During these games, the cheerleaders performed chants, cheered during time-outs and performed a choreographed half-time routine. This allowed the crowd to be entertained and invited spectators to get involved in raising Spartan spirit. They showcased such stunts as: straight-up double-base extension twist-downs, walk-in chairs, toss hands to single base extension and torches. Their pyramids consisted of: two-two ones, table tops, stags, heel stretch liberties and a variety of others. They built pyramids two and a half people high, the maximum allowed by NCAA regulations.

The York College cheerleaders were led by first-year Head Coach John Bliss, a former cheerleader from Lehigh University. John Bliss catapulted their level of stunting ability, challenging the team members to attempt new tricks and to perform exceptionally well. He was a democratic leader, always looking for squad members to lead the team when needed, and looking for members to actively participate in the formation of new routines.

Of the 14 squad members from this year, ten are currently in either their first or second year of cheering at the collegiate level. With such a young, energetic, and daring group, John has set the standard for cheerleading within the Capital Athletic Conference, and central Pennsylvania, for many years to come.

Time-outs meant showtime for the cheerleaders. Sticking a liberty pyramid, the team cheers to the fans.

Mandi Skyes, Jamie Matysek, and Melissa Sherman hit a "T" motion during a cheer.

Here, the cheerleaders hit a two-two -one pyramid.

SPARTANS

MASH RECORDS

The York College women's basketball team enjoyed the most successful season in their past 20 years. The Spartans ended their season with a loss to Gallaudet, the number one seed in the Capital Athletic Conference tournament, in the CAC semifinals after piling up a school record 15 wins.

The 15 wins breaks the old record of 13 and signifies the changing of the guard for the Spartans. The green and white finished 8-6 in the CAC during the regular season, their best record in the nine years of the league.

Head coach Betsy Witman felt the Spartans took the steps necessary to take the program in the direction that it should be going.

"With the core group we have coming back, there is no reason for us not to take the next step in our progression to a great program," says the second-year Spartan mentor. "We have to work harder than we ever have before in the off-season but I am confident we can take that step."

The Spartans accomplished a number of goals from the beginning of the year. In addition to breaking the all-time wins mark, the Spartans were the highest scoring team in school history with 1,880 points, averaging 72.3 points per game. The Spartans tallied the most field goals (736) in school history in addition to breaking the single season team rebounding record as the Spartans grabbed 1,256 boards for the year. The Spartans also dished out 441 assists and blocked a record 163 shots.

Witman would go on to share some insight into next season: "I have some pretty high expectations for next year in terms of team goals and growth of our players." She later said, "I really believe that we have as much talent as anyone in the conference coming back and that doesn't even include what could be a very dynamic recruiting class. We have some very talented players interested in our program and hopefully we can get them to join the team and help us to the next level."

Freshman Kellie Flynn, one of two Lady Spartans to measure 6 feet tall, averaged 5.2 points and 5.5 rebounds per game.

Left: Senior guard Val Speakman ended the season averaging 6 points, 3.8 assists, 2.2 rebounds and 1.6 steals per game.

Below: Amy Anderson, last season's Rookie of the Year, suffered through a wide variety of injuries. Anderson still averaged 12.5 points and 6.4 rebounds per game.

Junior Katie Parise led the Spartans in scoring, averaging 16 points per game and 5.1 rebounds.

Far left: Junior Forward Mike May totalled 220 points for the Spartans, also contributing 93 field goals and 172 rebounds.

Left: Junior Guard Jason Sauerbaugh averaged 10.4 points per game, had 147 assists, and nailed 73 field goals this season.

The 1998-1999 campaign was fueled by fire. The fuel burned each time the Spartans took the court. They started each game with a tremendous passion, but quickly faded when the Spartans returned at halftime. Coach Jeff Gamber will tell you that his team was the only able to stay focused up until halftime, after which they often struggled to put the ball in the basket and had the misfortune of committing many turnovers.

The squad did have its bright spots and headlining the list was the outstanding play of All-Captial Athletic Conference center Dave Martins, who led the Spartans in scoring (18.1 points per game and 8.3 rebounds per game.). His outstanding campaign was highlighted in the season finale at Salisbury State University, where he recorded his 1,000th point as a Spartan.

Martins' success was aided by the strong efforts of junior forward Mike May, who poured in 9.6 points per game and grabbed 7.8 rebounds per contest.

Junior point guard Jason Sauerbaugh was the team's second leading scorer, hitting at a rate of 11 points per game. He also ranked nationally in assists for the third consecutive season with 157 assists.

John Ely was a pleasant surprise for York, averaging 10.8 points per game and sinking 60 threes, converting on 43% of his attempts from beyond the arc.

Freshman forward Tim Hawken was immediately inserted into the starting line-up, starting in 23 out of 25 games.

With the entire team returning next season, the green and white can optimistically see themselves climbing the conference standings at a rapid pace. They will fuel the fire to stake a claim for a successful showing in the conference.

Water World !

Flying through the water, breaking records and proving that they are nothing but the best is what Spartan swimming is all about. For both the men and women, this was a great year. In women's swimming, Lisa Lyon is now the record holder in both the 50 yard and the 100 yard backstroke. She earned times of 29.84 in the 50 and 1:04.24 in the 100 to gain the record. These are added to her current record in the 200 backstroke.

In men's swimming it was also a record breaking year. Terry Kelly broke the previous record in the 100 yard backstroke with a new time of 1:01.22. In the 100 yard butterfly, Ryan O'Hagan finished with a time of 54.88 and also broke the record in the 200 yard IM with a time of 2:03.16. In the men's relays, the team of Jon Grant, Matthew Englert, Ryan O'Hagan, and Terry Kelly set four records, proving that teamwork truly does pay off. They now hold the Spartan records in the 200 freestyle relay, the 400 free relay, the 200 yard medley relay and the 400 medley relay. In the 200 free, the new record time is 1:31.23. In the 400 free, they finished in 3:20.85 for the record. In the Medley Relays, they finished in 1:41.24 in the 200 and 3:49.94 in the 400.

Victory is at hand when talking about the York College Wrestling program. Lead by head coach Tom Kessler, this year's wrestling squad registered an 11-8 record last year, sending three wrestlers to nationals. Dan Garner, Dave Kennedy, and Chris Ream all were sent to the NCAA Tournament at Upper Iowa.

York College's Tennis Teams fought hard and proved that the love of the game, not winning is the most important part. Led by head coach Henry Schaefer, and by Assistant Coach Betsy Whitman, the Men's and Women's teams turned up the courts proving that tennis is truly a fun, hard, worthwhile sport. The Men's tennis team ended their season with a mark of 3-10 and 1-4 in the CAC. The Women's tennis team ended the season with a mark of 3-7 and 1-4 in the CAC.

Fields of Dreams....

Becomes a Reality

York ends their 1999 season with a record of 22-16. Six Spartans were selected to the 1999 Capital

Athletic Conference All-Conference baseball teams and Head Coach Paul Saikia was also named the 1999 CAC Co-Coach-of-the-Year as he led the Spartans to their third CAC title in eight years. This was his third as the Spartans' head coach. As the 1999 CAC champions, the Spartans had two freshmen earn first-team honors Travis Gaidos and David Ellis. Gaidos was selected as an outfielder while Ellis was picked as a pitcher. This was definitely a year when the American pastime of a great day out at the baseball diamond made the York College Field of Dreams becomes a reality.

A Swing In...

Leading the Spartans this year was Leslie Eby. Her first year of coaching, she plans on making the Lady Spartans a competitive, exciting team that will be tough to beat in the future. This year's team consisted of eight returning letterwinners with only two of those players being seniors. The roster features six freshmen and eight sophomores, giving York one of the youngest teams in the Capital Athletic Conference, and as such, led York to some fantastic games. The Spartan end their season with a record of 12-15.

Seniors are Top Contributors

The men's track team was fueled to perform at their best as a result of each teammate pushing each other to do his best. Coached by Rich Achtzehn and Eric Hue, they were inspired to practice hard and to perform at their top ability.

Senior captain Andy Kovich acted as a strong leader this season. He competed in the 100, 200, 110 high hurdles, 400 meter relay and long jump. He provided an unparalleled work ethic and leadership.

Senior George Livingston placed an impressive 12th in the conference championships where he recieved All-CAC honors. He was versitile in the distance events and had a strong competitive nature.

Senior Mike Pisors was also a co-captain and specialized in the high and intermediate hurdles, the 400m run and the 1600 meter relay. Mike's senior year efforts were his best, which contributed greatly to the team's successful season.

Josh Syvertsen was one of York's leading mid distance runners. He excelled in the 800m and also completed in the 400 and 400m relay.

Stephan Kochansky, Tim Johnson, and Justin Ecker were also top contributors this year.

Below: Chris Mullinex was another strong long distance runner who was an asset to the team this season.

An Eventful Time

College is a lot more than just having fun, hanging out with friends and oh yeah, going to class. It's hard work, a lifetime of diligence and a search for excellence and improvement in not only our knowledge, but also the knowledge of others around us. It is this pursuit of excellence that leads us to have events such as this one. May 3, 1999 – also known as Student Scholarship Day, was one of those times to show off as well as educate others in the hard work of York College students. Posters were hung throughout Campbell Hall, as well as Oral Presentations were given and awards received by students at the end of the day from each of the different academic departments on campus. It is evident that the researchers and scholars of tomorrow are here at York today.

After the Curtain Falls...

Combine talents, creativity, costumes and fun and you've got just the right mixture for success draped across the YCP stage. Gracing both DeMeester and Playpen theater were plays such as Extremities, Suicide in B Flat, Tartuffe, A Christmas Carol, Oleanna, Romeo & Juliet, Doctor Faustus, How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying, and of course the ever popular Student One Act Plays & Variety Show. These shows as well as their actors are destined to leave a tear in your eye, a smile on your face and a different perspective on the world once the final act is done and after the curtain falls.

The weekend of Friday, October 9th through Sunday the 11th, was the annual Family Weekend and Homecoming Celebration, Fall Fest. This included a field hockey game, the York College of Pennsylvania Program and Reception on Friday. Later in the evening, the Fall Formal took place at the Valencia Ballroom, highlighting the Fall Formal King and Queen.

Saturday included the Scholarship Recognition for Alpha Chi Honor Society inductees and the Freshman Academic Achievement Scholarship recipients, in the Wolf Gymnasium. President Waldner sponsored a reception at his home following the Scholarship recognition. The women's rugby team, the field hockey team, the women's soccer team, the alumni baseball, men's soccer, and lacrosse teams all saw action. Later in the evening, Buzz Sutherland provided comedy and Graffiti Tribe, an acappella group, sang in the Wolf Gym. Suicide in B Flat also played at the DeMesster Theater on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Sunday culminated the entire weekend, highlighting various Religious services in the morning at Brougher Chapel, a Pops concert at the MAC Recital Hall and a women's soccer game in the afternoon.

FALL FEST

Halloween

appenings

"Gorbechev was just walking around campus!". It's amazing what you'll find while strolling the campus on Halloween. On October 30, 1998, organizations flooded the campus mall in front of Campbell Hall with various festive goods for sale. Organizations such as Chi Gamma Iota were selling baked goodies like snickerdoodles, while Omega Chi were selling pumpkins that you could decorate for a loved one. Groups like the Women's Union sold things such as tomato soup and cheese sandwiches to warm people as they enjoyed the windy, chilly fall day. Regardless of what was for sale or what organization was there, a fun time was had by all.

M R. Y C P

Per tradition, YCP's finest men convened on Wolf Gym A on the evening of November 7, 1998 to vie for the coveted crown of Mr. YCP. Judged by Terri Andary, Janna Powell, and Marc Stine, the contestants displayed their unique and in some cases, unusual talents. Only on our stage could you see an ambidextrous artist and a Bruce Springsteen wannabe, King Arthur and a dancing ballerina. Following the swimsuit and evening wear competitions, the judged narrowed the field to four: Tom Silvia (Omega Chi), Phil Baines (International Students Club), Peter Richards (Phi Sigma Pi) and Matt Brinkley (Cheerleading). After one final set of questions, Peter Richards of Phi Sigma Pi was crowned Mr. YCP 1998.

They say that beauty is in the eyes of the beholder, and what a sight to behold. April 9, 1999 the most beautiful and talented graced the YCP stage all competing for the coveted title of "Ms. YCP", as rain poured from the sky. Although the creek was rising, the audience came anyway to cheer their friends and enjoy the show — this was definitely not an event that was going to be rained out. Hosted by Pete Richards, the 1998 MR. YCP, the evening was filled with fun not only for the contestants but also for those in the audience — with events including such things as a twister game on stage. Contestants competed in a swimwear competition, talent, eveningwear and then an interview session.

RUSTED

O O T

Rusted Root originally founded in Pittsburgh, PA in 1990, rocked Gym A on Friday, February 13, 1999 for about 2 and a half-hours. Being considered one of the most powerful soul music forces that have emerged in the 90's is a big honor. They truthfully proved their word, highlighting songs such as "Ecstasy", "Extreme", The Rolling Stone's "Can't Always Get What You Want", and the ever popular "Send Me On My Way". Playing instruments ranging from garbage cans to a gong and a penny whistle to a violin, Rusted Root's music had a great vibe. The closer to stage, people were elbow to elbow with little room to move, but in the back of the Gym, there were people dancing the night away. The concert was both an emotionally intense and fun experience for those who attended despite the crowd and heat.

It was a riot, I tell you, a riot at York College!

That's right – a Zoot Suit Riot! York College students and the community came together on April 18, 1999 some dressed in Zoot Suits, and others just there ready to swing into the night listening to the sounds of the swing wonders, Cherry Poppin' Daddies as well as their opening Act, Next Of Kin featuring some of York College's own performing on stage. The Cherry Poppin' Daddies are a swingin' rock band from Eugene, OR that formed back in 1989. The concert itself was almost magical, transporting people back to a time when swing was it, and then forward with their crazy selections of punk rock, ska, jazz and everything else in between. While discussing the future of swing with Jason Moss, lead guitarist, it was evident that swing is here to stay with maybe a bit of a turn to some of the smooth sounds of Motown music in the future.

All Dressed Up, and Nowhere to Go?

Getting all dressed up to party is the idea behind the fall and spring formal. Every year approximately 250 YCP students attend both events. The fall formal, held on October 2, 1998 from 6-Midnight, signified the kick off of our annual Fall Fest. Dinner was served and there was a DJ highlighting everything from Soft Rock to Hip-Hop, trying to cover everyone's taste in music.

A Night on the Town

On April 29, 1999 there was a wild night to be had in York. Around 250 students flooded the Valencia Ballroom to dance the night away to music celebrating the spirit of the spring as the kickoff event of Spring Weekend '99 – the Spring Formal, was underway. How could anyone forget the theme, “A Spring Night in York”, as it was the perfect spring night for such an event! Dinner was served, then the crowning of the King and Queen to lead off the dancing and mayhem. Music from all genres wailed through the night as people enjoyed good friends, good times and as the theme stated, a spring night in York.

In Closing ...

We all are mere travelers upon a journey. Each journey, filled with different destinations, is as unique and reflective of the person who is embarking upon it. Soon we discover that we find ourselves at a crossroads, working towards similar goals in life yet at the same time working in very different directions. As our academic, life and work experiences change us, so do the marks upon our life that describe and define who we are. Marks like these, similar to the marks upon a passport, are representations of our journey. This year's book is entitled 'Passport to Tomorrow' to reflect upon the journey of these travelers.

While writing this book, the staff of the Horizon have weathered what some would say was an impossible year personally, academically and professionally, but in the end we pulled together and our accomplishment is the book before you. To the staff members of the Horizon, you are all a great bunch of people to work with. I shall cherish our times together and I wish you the best of luck in the future.

To those who are beginning that journey, it's a wild ride. Each of you individually will experience things you never thought possible, and be a completely different person when you are done. For those experiencing the pomp and circumstance that graduation stands for, it is merely a reflection of the completion of one journey, and the beginning of another filled with the rich hopes and dreams that you may now achieve.

Good Luck to all of you in the future and may your passports be filled with stamps of the happiness and adventure that await you in the future.
